

Mrs W. a. Knodner
1524 E Fulton St
Columbus, Ohio

W. S. Dean 575 W. Columbus Ave
Youngstown Ohio.

Feb. 10, 1937

Dear Mother:

I received the Lobaton card and envelope yesterday and it reminded me that I owe you a letter.

We got a letter from Ethelyn last week, the first she's written since we've been up here. She said that the flood didn't bother them at all. They had just gotten back from Washington D.C. and Philadelphia where they spent eleven days.

So I haven't been sick. I've been pretty lucky so far. Betty had a touch of the flu, however and it developed into sinus trouble. She's better now tho

We got the messages from church ok. Thanks for having it sent.

We finally got our money from the Gannett for when Betty hurt her back at work that time. That's eight dollars we never expected to get.

What's news down there? How's Aunt Clara and the rest? Tell them all I said "Hello".

How's the weather down there? Up here, it's warm one day and cold the next. Day before yesterday it was 70° and today it's down to 20°. I wish spring would hurry up and come. I'm tired of cold weather.

Betty and I went to Pittsburg a week ago Sunday. It was the first time I had been there. It sure is a big place and all hills. Then we went down through West Virginia and saw where the flood had been then we crossed the Ohio river at E. Liverpool and came back to Youngstown we had a very nice time.

I'm still thinking about coming to Columbus to look for a job. Do you think rents will raise any there this spring? Ethelyn says that her sister Edith and her husband who are living here, are going back to Columbus to live. I guess this pyp town is too much for them too.

Can you noticed any improvement in things in Columbus with regard to work? I hope so because I'm going to come down some of these days and look around

I guess there isn't anything else for this time so I'll close for this time,

Love, Waldo.